Ms. Mary Lindsay, A/Director of Services replied as follows:

- Roscommon County Council are not aware of any issues of flooding in local authority dwellings
- Roscommon County Council did provide emergency accommodation to a small number of private households
- The Department of Social Protection (DSP) operates a Relief Scheme and DSP staff engage with local authorities and other agencies to ensure supports are being provided to those affected as swiftly as possible.
- The Community welfare Service remains on alert and ready to respond as required based on the level of support required.
- In dealing with emergency events of this nature, the DSP generally adopts a three stage approach as follows:

Stage 1 is to provide emergency income support payments (food, clothing and personal items) in the immediate aftermath of the event. A relatively small amount of financial assistance is generally provided initially with payments around the country ranging from €100 to €500 depending on family size.

Stage 2 generally involves the replacement of white goods, basic furniture items and other essential household items. It is not until the flood water abates and houses dry out that the full extent of the damage to homes will become known.

Stage 3 is to identify what longer term financial support or works are required. It could take several months before this stage of response commences and this involves a cross Departmental/Agency response. Works carried out can include plastering, dry-lining, relaying of floors, electrical re-wiring and painting.

- The Humanitarian Assistance scheme, which is means tested, will be made available to assist people whose homes are damaged by flooding and who are not in a position to meet costs for essential needs, household items and in some instances structural repair.

The Government has not set a limit on the amount that can be paid to an individual household under this scheme. Levels of payment depend on the relative severity of damage experienced and the household's ability to meet these costs.

The scheme has certain conditions attached to ensure that funding is targeted to those most in need.
